I agree to make digital photographs of materials in the History of Science Collections for personal and/or research use only.

I agree not to take photographs of the people or premises of the History of Science Collections, but only of the materials that are checked out in my name. (The decorative screen and display cases may be photographed without permission or completion of this form.)

I agree not to publish or distribute any photographs, in print or online, without obtaining prior written permission from the History of Science Collections.

In the event of publication, I agree to employ an appropriate attribution statement (usually “courtesy History of Science Collections, University of Oklahoma Libraries”), and I agree to provide the Collections with a copy of every publication or production I may author or create containing these photographs (and any derivative forms created from them).

I have read the Terms of Use statement for images obtained from the Collections’ Online Galleries, and agree to adhere to such terms with respect to photographs I make as well.
